I.	Hedge funds
1	Registration,	We also firmly recommitted to work in	Implementation of this recommendation
(1)	appropriate disclosures and oversight of hedge funds	an internationally consistent and non-discriminatory manner to strengthen regulation and supervision on hedge funds. (Seoul) Hedge funds or their managers will be registered and will be required to disclose appropriate information on an ongoing basis to supervisors or regulators, including on their leverage, necessary for assessment of the systemic risks they pose individually or collectively. Where appropriate registration should be subject to a minimum size. They will be subject to oversight to ensure that they have adequate risk management. (London)	was reported to be completed by all FSB jurisdictions in the 2016 IMN survey. Given this, the reporting of progress with respect to this recommendation will take place every 2-3 years henceforth (i.e. in 2019 or 2020).

2 (2)	Establishment of international information sharing framework	We ask the FSB to develop mechanisms for cooperation and information sharing between relevant authorities in order to ensure effective oversight is maintained when a fund is located in a different jurisdiction from the manager. We will, cooperating through the FSB, develop measures that implement these principles by the end of 2009. (London)	Jurisdictions should indicate the progress made in implementing recommendation 6 in IOSCO's Report on Hedge Fund Oversight (Jun 2009) on sharing information to facilitate the oversight of globally active fund managers. In addition, jurisdictions should state whether they are: - Signatory to the IOSCO MMoU in relation to cooperation in enforcement - Signatory to bilateral agreements for supervisory cooperation that cover hedge funds and are aligned to the 2010 IOSCO Principles Regarding Cross-border Supervisory Cooperation. Jurisdictions can also refer to Principle 28 of the 2010 IOSCO Objectives and Principles of Securities Regulation, and take into account the outcomes of any recent FSAP/ROSC assessment against those Principles.	□Not applicable □Applicable but no action envisaged at the moment If "Not applicable" or "Applicable but no action envisaged" has been selected, please provide a brief justification: □Implementation ongoing: Status of progress [for legislation and regulation/guidelines only]: □Draft in preparation, expected publication by: □Draft published as of: □Final rule or legislation approved and will come into force on: □Final rule (for part of the reform) in force since: ☑Implementation completed as of: 22.07.2013 Issue is being addressed through: □Primary / Secondary legislation □Regulation /Guidelines ☑Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify: BaFin cooperates and shares infor-mation with authorities on the basis of relevant IOSCO and ESMA MoU. No 3 (3)	Description Enhancing counterparty risk management	G20/FSB Recommendations Supervisors should require that institutions which have hedge funds as their counterparties have effective risk management, including mechanisms to monitor the funds' leverage and set limits for single counterparty exposures. (London)	Remarks Jurisdictions should indicate specific policy measures taken for enhancing counterparty risk management and strengthening their existing guidance on the management of exposure to leveraged counterparties. In particular, jurisdictions should indicate whether they have implemented recommendation 3 of the IOSCO Report on Hedge Fund Oversight (Jun 2009). In their responses, jurisdictions should not provide information on the portion of this recommendation that pertains to Basel III, since it is monitored separately by the BCBS. Furthermore, the investment in struc-tured products has to be in line with the strategy of the institution. The respective enhancements of EU legisla-tion (CRD) had been transposed into German law, e.g. the strengthened management requirements for struc-tured investment products and further due diligence requirements, especially for resecuritisations. These due dili-gence requirements have with effect from 01.01.2014 now been replaced by the almost identical rules of Article 406 of Regulation (EU) No 575/2013 (CRR). Highlight main developments since last year's survey: The EU is currently preparing a Securitisation Regulation that will apply to all securitisations across regulated fi-nancial sectors and include due dili-gence, risk retention and transparency rules together with the criteria for Sim-ple, Transparent and Standardised ("STS") Securitisations (see

Status of progress [for legislation and regulation/guidelines only]: □Draft in preparation, expected publication by: □Draft published as of: □Final rule or legislation approved and will come into force on: □Final rule (for part of the reform) in force since: ☑Implementation completed as of: National implementation of relevant CRD II amendments for credit institutions has been applicable from 31.12.2010 and has been replaced by corresponding CRR requirements for institutions from 01.01.2014. Amendments to CRA Regulation entered directly into force within EU Member States on 20.06.2013. Rules for alternative investment funds (AIFs) and Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities (UCITS) in accordance with the Kapitalanlagegesetzbuch (KAGB) are applicable since 22.07.2013. Rules for insurance and reinsurance undertakings are applicable since 01.01.2016.	On 28 August 2013 Germany has adopted a law to implement the CRD IV (which is the European implementation of Basel III into European law. See: http://www.bgbl.de/xaver/bgbl/start.xav?startbk=Bundesanzeiger_BGBl&jumpTo=bgbl113s3395.pdf With the CRD IV entering into force, German Banks are obliged to also implement the requirements of Pillar 3 of Basel III. While not all Pillar 3 relevant details were fully developed at this stage, the BCBS in January 2015 has adopted Revised Pillar 3 disclosure requirements. See: http://www.bis.org/bcbs/publ/d309.pdf In Part 6 of the Revised Pillar 3 disclosure requirements, qualitative (subsection I) and quantitative securitisation disclosures (subsection II) are contained. According to this document it is envisaged that "(ie banks will be required to publish their first Pillar 3 report under the revised framework concurrently with their year-end 2016 financial report). The Committee encourages early adoption by individual jurisdictions." Replacement of current requirements based on EU Directives and Regulations of Art. 406 CRR by revised requirements in accordance with a proposed Securitisation

	Issue is being addressed through: □ Primary / Secondary legislation □ Regulation /Guidelines □ Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify: Banks also have to fulfill comprehen-sive disclosure requirements if they are acting as originator or sponsor of a securitisation which were introduced by the CRD II (Directive 2009/111/EC) and transposed into German law by 31.12.2010 - and have with effect from 01.01.2014 been replaced by the almost identical rules of Article 409 of Regulation (EU) No 575/2013 (CRR). 				Directive). The Commission has published Delegated Acts in accordance with Article 135 (2) of the Solvency II Directive (Commission Delegated Acts Regulation (EU) 2015/35 of 10 October 2014 supplementing Directive 2009/138/EG). These Delegated Acts specify requirements to be met by the originator in order for undertakings to be allowed to invest in such securities or instruments issued after 1 January 2011, including requirements that ensure that the originator retains a net economic interest of no less than 5%. Moreover, these Delegated Acts stipulate qualitative re-quirements that must be met by insurance or reinsurance undertakings that invest in such securities or instruments. Articles 254 to 257 of the Delegated Acts contain these rules regarding the investments in securitisation positions, for example risk retention requirements relating to the originators, sponsors or original lenders, exemptions to risk retention requirements, qualitative requirements relating to insurance and reinsurance undertakings and requirements for invest-ments in securitisation that no longer comply with the risk-retention and qualitative requirements. Furthermore the EIOPA Guideline 30 and the Explanatory Notes on EIOPA Guideline 30 on the system of govern-ance contain measures that the undertaking could implement to ensure that interests are aligned. The measures listed there are not to be considered exhaustive. C) Regarding alternative investment funds (AIFs) and Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities (UCITS). The AIFMD (Directive 2011/61/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2011 on Alternative Investment Fund Managers and amending Directives 2003/41/EC and 2009/65/EC and Regulations (EC) No 1060/2009 and (EU) No 1095/2010) is applicable to alternative investment funds managers (AIFMs). Article 17 AIFMD contains similar risk retention requirements as Solvency II for insurance undertakings (i.e. requirements that need to be met by the originator, the sponsor or the original lender, in order for an AIFM to be allowed to invest in securities or other financial instruments of this type issued after 1 January 2011 on behalf of AIFs, including requirements that ensure that the originator, the sponsor or the original lender retains a net economic interest of not less than 5%. 7 (7)	Consistent, consolidated supervision and regulation of SIFIs	All firms whose failure could pose a risk to financial stability must be subject to consistent, consolidated supervision and regulation with high standards. (Pittsburgh)	Jurisdictions should indicate: (1) whether they have identified domestic SIFIs and, if so, in which sectors (banks, insurers, other etc.); (2) whether the names of the identified SIFIs have been publicly disclosed; and (3) the types of policy measures taken for implementing consistent, consolidated supervision and regulation of the identified SIFIs. Jurisdictions should not provide details on policy measures that pertain to higher loss absorbency requirements for G/D-SIBs, since these are monitored separately by the BCBS. See, for reference, the following documents: BCBS: • Framework for G-SIBs (Jul 2013) • Framework for D-SIBs (Oct 2012) IAIS: • Global Systemically Important Insurers: Policy Measures (Jul 2013) and revised assessment methodology (updated in June 2016) • IAIS SRMP guidance - FINAL (Dec 2013)	□ Not applicable □ Applicable but no action envisaged at the moment If "Not applicable" or "Applicable but no action envisaged" has been selected, please provide a brief justification: □ Implementation ongoing: Status of progress [for legislation and regulation/guidelines only]: □ Draft in preparation, expected publication by: □ Draft published as of: □ Final rule or legislation approved and will come into force on: □ Final rule (for part of the reform) in force since: □ Implementation completed as of: 1 Jan 2011 (entry into force of Bank Restructuring Act). For CCPs August 2012 (EU-Regulation no. 648/2012 EMIR). Issue is being addressed through: □ Primary / Secondary legislation □ Regulation /Guidelines □ Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify: Minimum Requirements for Risk Management (MaRisk, Internal BaFin, but applies only to Eurex Clearing AG). Banking sector: With the start of the Single Supervisory Mechanism (SSM) on 4th November 2014	Planned actions (if any) and expected commencement date: Discussions within crisis management groups have been taking place since early 2010. Additional provisions for crossborder crisis resolution are subject to ongoing work at the EU level. Insurance: BaFin is examining whether the currently available instruments for recovery and resolution are sufficient for the national insurance sector or if additional ones are needed. According to primary estimations, preventive recovery plans appear to be a sensible instrument for which § 26 of the Insurance Supervision Act (Versicherungsaufsichtsgesetzt) provides a sufficient legal basis. BaFin is considering the inclusion of a broader range of insurers than the international discussion currently involves. Furthermore, there is a consensus that the international and European directions are the minimum of what would be implemented nationally. Banking sector: The FMSA, after consulting the supervisory authority, will draw up a resolution plan for each institution that is not part of a group subject to consolidated supervision. The same will apply for the assessment of resolvability carried out by the resolution authority, after consulting the supervisory authority and the resolution authorities of the jurisdictions in which significant branches are located. 			Guidance on Liquidity management and planning (Oct 2014) FSB: Framework for addressing SIFIs (Nov 2011)	ECB has assumed direct supervisory authority regarding significant institutions. In terms of CCPs the ECB has classified them as high priority – less significant institution (hp-lsi). In this respect the ECB has left the supervision about the CCPs by the competent authorities, i.e. for Germany BaFin, but preserved the right to draw up the supervisory competence. Supervisory strategy and core themes regarding SIFIs therefore will presumably largely be determined by the ECB. Especially, ECB is responsible for supervisory decisions. Yet, within the framework of the Joint Supervisory Teams (JST), composed of ECB but also NCA/NCB staff to a large extent, BaFin and Bundesbank strive to proactively participate in the joint supervisory effort including formal decisions. Moreover, as members of the Supervisory Board which plans and carries out the SSM's supervisory tasks and pro-poses draft decisions for adoption by the ECB's Governing Council, NCAs are involved into the SSM's decision making process to a certain extent. The following statements should be regarded against this background. For further information on identification / higher loss absorbency, please refer to the EU-COM answer. In order to come into effect, the CRD IV provisions which were finalized in July 2013 required a further transposition into national law. The amendments to the German 'Kreditwesengesetz' authority to impose a capital buffer is laid down in sections 10f and 10g of the German Banking Act (KWG). The methodology for the identification of G-SIIs is laid down in the delegated regulation (EU) No 1222/2014 of the European Commission. In December 2014 the European Banking Authority (EBA) published guidelines on the identification of O-SIIs to ensure a consistent identification of O-SIIs in EU (EBA GL/2014/10). Based on EBA GL/2014/10 BaFin together with Bundesbank designated 14 institutions as O-SIIs and imposed capital buffers (CET 1) in a range of 0.5% to 2.0% which will be phased in from 2017 to 2019. Under the CRD, in the case that an O-SII might be also designated as G-SII only the higher capital buffer of the O-SII and the G-SII buffer applies. Within the relevant scope, financial firms have been asked to provide BaFin with a draft contingency and derisking plan in early 2010. The results were already discussed and further work has been initiated to refine the planning. Banking sector: On January 1, 2011 the "Bank Restructuring Act" came into effect. The EU Directive 2014/59/EU (BRRD) and its implementation in Germany forms an important part of supervision and regulation of SIFIs. The BRRD contains requirements for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms. Thereby the directive ensures a harmonisation of the procedures for resolving institutions at Union Level. In Germany the BRRD Implementation Act (Sanierungs- und Abwicklungsgesetz, SAG) has entered into force on 1th January 2015. According to the SAG the resolution authority is the Financial Market Stabilisation Agency (Bundesanstalt für Finanzmarktstabilisierung – FMSA) which will be incorporated into BaFin from 2018. In a nutshell the shared responsibilities in practice can be described as follows: The supervisory authority is responsible for the assessment of recovery plans. The resolution plan and assesses the resolvability. Moreover, the supervisory authority after hearing the resolution	Next steps

No 9 (9)	Description Supervisory exchange of information and coordination	G20/FSB Recommendations To quicken supervisory responsiveness to developments that have a common effect across a number of institutions, supervisory exchange of information and coordination in the development of best practice benchmarks should be improved at both national and international levels. (Rec V.7, FSF 2008) Enhance the effectiveness of core supervisory colleges. (FSB 2012)	Remarks Jurisdictions should include any feedback received from recent FSAPs/ROSC assessments on the September 2012 BCP 3 (Cooperation and collaboration) and BCP 14 (Homehost relationships). Jurisdictions should also indicate any steps taken since the last assessment in this area, particularly in response to relevant FSAP/ROSC recommendations. Jurisdictions should describe any recent or planned regulatory, supervisory or legislative changes that contribute to the sharing of supervisory information (e.g. within supervisory colleges or via bilateral or multilateral MoUs). 				competent and relevant NCAs with regard to the banking groups foreign activities. In addition to regular bilateral contacts, supervisory colleges, especially core colleges, are also a major tool for the exchange of information and coordination among com-petent NSAs regarding individual institutions. Overarching issues in contrast are addressed through many multilateral initiatives, for example the new European Supervisory Authorities (i.e. EBA, EIOPA and ESMA) the BCBS, FSB working groups, IAIS, etc. Since the implementation of the SSM in November 2014, there is also a steady flow of information between BaFin/Bundesbank and the ECB via the Joint Supervisory Teams and several working groups. At the end of 2014, Germany has signed bilateral MoUs with more than 60 NSAs in the banking sector and some 30 NSAs in the insurance sector and more than 40 in the securities sector. For CCPs: Exchange of CCP related information to College members (including ESMA) and ECB. The College members and the ECB have therefore signed bilateral MoUs ("written agreements") with BaFin. 11 (11)	Establishing regulatory framework for macroprudential oversight	Amend our regulatory systems to ensure authorities are able to identify and take account of macro-prudential risks across the financial system including in the case of regulated banks, shadow banks and private pools of capital to limit the build up of systemic risk. (London) Ensure that national regulators possess the powers for gathering relevant information on all material financial institutions, markets and instruments in order to assess the potential for failure or severe stress to contribute to systemic risk. This will be done in close coordination at international level in order to achieve as much consistency as possible across jurisdictions. (London)	Please describe major changes in the institutional arrangements for macroprudential policy (structures, mandates, powers, reporting etc.) that have taken place in your jurisdiction since the global financial crisis. Please indicate whether an assessment has been conducted with respect to the adequacy of powers to collect and share relevant information among national authorities on financial institutions, markets and instruments to assess the potential for systemic risk. If so, please describe identified gaps in the powers to collect information, and whether any follow-up actions have been taken.	□ Not applicable □ Applicable but no action envisaged at the moment If "Not applicable" or "Applicable but no action envisaged" has been selected, please provide a brief justification: □ Implementation ongoing: Status of progress [for legislation and regulation/guidelines only]: □ Draft in preparation, expected publication by: □ Draft published as of: □ Final rule or legislation approved and will come into force on: □ Final rule (for part of the reform) in force since: □ Implementation completed as of: 01.01.2013 Issue is being addressed through: □ Primary / Secondary legislation □ Regulation /Guidelines □ Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify: Since 1 □ January 2013, the Act on the □ Strengthening of German Financial □ Supervision is in force. A leverage ratio reporting requirement was introduced into German supervisory law as an indicator under Pillar 2. In its meeting in June 2015, the Financial Stability Committee (FSC) recommended that the federal government shall initiate the creation of a legal basis which would allow the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin) to introduce minimum requirements for the credit-based financing of residential property pur-chases (including the minimum amount of equity that must be provid-ed and minimum debt repayment rates), should such rules be regarded as necessary in the future. In this way, risks to financial stability arising from excessive debt and price bubbles on the real estate market can be limited (FSC Recommendation on new instruments for regulating loans for the construction or purchase of residential real estate, AFS/2015/1,). 				BaFin has set a countercyclical capital buffer of 0% for Germany as of 1 January 2016. In the following quarters, the countercyclical capital buffer rate has been reviewed regularly. Adjustments to the rate of 0% have not been necessary as of yet. The idea behind the countercyclical capital buffer is that in times of excessive credit growth, banks are required to build up an additional capital buffer. This buffer generally increases the lossabsorbing capacity of banks.
				The buffer can be used in times of stress to mitigate losses. As a result, it is intended to avoid the creation of a credit crunch. The decision about setting the buffer is based on an analysis of a variety of indicators. In particular the development of the credit-to-GDP gap, i.e., the deviation in the ratio of lending to gross domestic product from its longterm trend, plays a decisive role. Deutsche Bundesbank provides a detailed description of the methodology for the German CCB and the indicator set in a addition, Germany has introduced a buffer for other systemically important institutions (OSII buffer).

				The buffer is effective from 01 January 2017 onwards and is affecting 14 institutions. The significant cross-border activities, and interconnectedness with the financial system. Thereby, the specific buffer for the single institution is calibrated in relation to all institutions in Germany. Concerning the indicators and methodologies used to identify risks Deutsche Bundesbank has developed an early warning models aimed at identifying vulnerabilities which could lead to a systemic banking crisis 5-12 quarters ahead. These models operate at the country level, and are is based on a quarterly panel data set of European countries. A binary crisis variable from the FSC/ESRB crisis database, as well as predictor variables covering the following channels are used: asset prices, credit developments, macroeconomic environment, and external/global imbalances.

				Short description of the content of the legislation/ regulation/guideline: The model shall be used in complementing the Bundesbank's toolkit for risk assess-ments, for instance those reported to the FSC (AFS). The Bundesbank is also further developing a risk dashboard and a heatmap which will be used to identify and track the build-up of risks and vulnerabilities in the financial system. The national heatmap and risk dashboard are closely related to the corresponding ESRB instruments which are currently being revised and updated. The Bundesbank is actively involved in this process through the participation in the respective ESRB working groups and task force teams.

Accordingly, bank's stress testing practices form part of BaFin's, Deutsche Bundesbank's and ECB's Supervisory Review and Evaluation Process (SREP). The SREP assessment is also based on information received through the newly introduced reporting requirements on LCR and NSFR components (as per the Capital Requirements Regulation, Regulation (EU) No. 575/2013) and the ITS (Implementing Technical Standard) on Supervisory Reporting. Additionally, for the systemically important banks, the ECB is receiving supplementary reporting regarding the newly calibrated EU-LCR, the Basel NSFR-ratio, on banks funding plans and additional monitoring metrics. Inclusion of unitand index-linked business was not permitted. EIOPA also determined that in addition to large insurance undertakings, small and mediumsized insurers should also participate in the test. However, insurers with a national market coverage of under 1% or technical gross provisions of less than 50 million euros were excluded. Based on these criteria, 20 life insurance undertakings participated in the stress test in Germany. Since the test was carried out at solo level, support measures within groups were not taken into consideration.

Short description of the content of the legislation/regulation/guideline:
According to the Act on Deposit Guarantee Schemes, ongoing supervision of deposit guarantee schemes by BaFin is mandatory. BaFin is empowered to counteract irregularities that may impair the proper handling of the compensation or jeopardise the assets accumulated for paying compensation. BaFin also monitors whether national regulation complies with international principles. To this end, BaFin and Deutsche Bundesbank regularly receive broad information on the national deposit guarantee schemes (such as: on risk oriented contribution systems, monitoring procedures within the guarantee schemes, financial statements, stresses and strains of the funds).
