I. Refining the regulatory perimeter
1 (2)	Review of the boundaries of the regulatory framework including strengthening of oversight of shadow banking	We will each review and adapt the boundaries of the regulatory framework to keep pace with developments in the financial system and promote good practices and consistent approaches at an international level. (London)	Jurisdictions should indicate the steps taken to expand the domestic regulatory framework to previously unregulated entities, for example, non-bank financial institutions (e.g. finance companies, mortgage insurance companies, credit hedge funds) and conduits/SIVs etc.	Implementation ongoing or completed If “ Not applicable “ or “Applicable but no action envisaged ...” has been selected, please provide a brief justification: Issue is being addressed through : <input type="checkbox"/> Primary / Secondary legislation <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Regulation /Guidelines <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify:	Planned actions (if any): The BCB will continue to participate actively in the relevant forums, particularly in the FSB and its subgroups and monitor national developments that may warrant an extension of the perimeter of financial regulation.
(1)		We agree to strengthen the regulation and oversight of the shadow banking system. ¹ (Cannes)	Jurisdictions should indicate policy measures to strengthen the regulation and oversight of the shadow banking system. See, for reference, the recommendations discussed in section 2 of the October 2011 FSB report: Shadow Banking: Strengthening Oversight and Regulation .	The BCB monitors those activities considered as shadow banking that are somehow connected to the financial institutions under its supervision, in order to identify and take action in case of potential exposure to the risk of contagion. Status of progress : Draft in preparation, expected publication by : 2013 Short description of the content of the legislation/ regulation/guideline: As part of the Global Shadow Banking Report for 2012 (FSB/SCAV/AGV), size and composition of the domestic shadow banking sector were estimated in Brazil. 				non-banking entities was assessed, but interconnectedness among non-banking entities is not yet available. Consolidated supervision of financial conglomerates already takes into account of most developments that would otherwise require revision of the boundaries of the regulatory framework. Financial institutions are required to have in place a structure for the management of credit, market and operational risks. Such structure must provide an assessment of new products and services from a risk-based perspective. Additionally, the BCB takes a proactive and cautious approach towards new products and markets. A new legislation is under preparation in order to expand the perimeter of domestic regulated entities, such as factoring and securitization companies. Web-links to relevant documents:

II. Hedge funds
2 (3)	Registration, appropriate disclosures and oversight of hedge funds	We also firmly recommitted to work in an internationally consistent and non-discriminatory manner to strengthen regulation and supervision on hedge funds ...(Seoul) Hedge funds or their managers will be registered and will be required to disclose appropriate information on an ongoing basis to supervisors or regulators, including on their leverage, necessary for assessment of the systemic risks they pose individually or collectively. Where appropriate registration should be subject to a minimum size. They will be subject to oversight to ensure that they have adequate risk management. 3 (4)	Establishment of international information sharing framework	We ask the FSB to develop mechanisms for cooperation and information sharing between relevant authorities in order to ensure effective oversight is maintained when a fund is located in a different jurisdiction from the manager. We will, cooperating through the FSB, develop measures that implement these principles by the end of 2009. (London)	Jurisdictions should indicate the progress made in implementing the high level principles in IOSCO's Report on Hedge Fund Oversight (Jun 2009) on sharing information to facilitate the oversight of globally active fund managers.	Implementation ongoing or completed If “ Not applicable “ or “Applicable but no action envisaged ...” has been selected, please provide a brief justification: Issue is being addressed through : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Primary / Secondary legislation <input type="checkbox"/> Regulation /Guidelines <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify: Establishment of bilateral Supervisory Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs). Status of progress : Reform effective (completed) as of : 2013 Short description of the content of the legislation/ regulation/guideline: Legislation grants CVM sufficient power to enter international agreements with supervisory authorities. 4 (5)	Enhancing counterparty risk management	Supervisors should require that institutions which have hedge funds as their counterparties have effective risk management, including mechanisms to monitor the funds' leverage and set limits for single counterparty exposures. (London)	Jurisdictions should indicate specific policy measures taken for enhancing counterparty risk management and strengthening their existing guidance on the management of exposure to leveraged counterparties. The treatment of securitization operations is conservative, especially when financial institutions hold subordinated tranches. Rules are effective from October, 1st 2013. Circular BCB 3,648/2013 regulates calculation of RWA component for credit risk under the advanced approaches (IRB). According to Circular BCB 3,648/2013, financial institutions could apply for using IRB, using a hierarchy of approaches applicable to securitisation exposures slightly adapted from Basel II principles. The Ratings-Based Approach (RBA) is on the top of hierarchy, but relies on internal rather than external ratings. The Supervisory Formula Approach (SFA) is the next in hierarchy, and is used when the financial institution is not able to calculate internal ratings that reflect the credit risk of underlying assets. When neither RBA nor SFA are feasible to be used, the standardised approach must be applied. The first application period for using IRB is scheduled to start by end-2012 and finish

No G-SIFIs are headquartered in Brazil. Concerning D-SIFIs, no formal definition is yet available, but six financial conglomerates are, in practical terms, considered as such, as they represent 68% of the total assets of the National Financial System (December, 2012). The BCB carries out annually a well structured supervision procedure.	Planned actions (if any): A BCB workgroup is developing a methodology to identify and classify domestic banks according to their systemic importance, based on the BCBS G-SIB methodology. Expected commencement date: Web-links to relevant documents:

No	Description	G20/FSB Recommendations	Remarks	Progress to date	Next steps
				Within this context, the activities embracing the identified D-SIFIs are classified as top priority in terms of allocation of resources. Besides that, the structure and procedures for the supervision of the most important financial conglomerates (including the six ones mentioned above) are discussed internally and defined by the Senior Management of the Department of Supervision of Banks and Banking Conglomerates at the BCB. Financial institutions must implement risk management structures according to the complexity and volume of their operations. Therefore, the larger the conglomerate, the higher the demands required by regulations. One example refers to capital adequacy. CMN Resolution 3,988/2011 states that institutions with total assets greater than R$100 billion must implement the Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process (Icaap), in order to assess the need for extra capital to cope with all relevant risks not covered by Pillar 1 requirements. Each financial conglomerate is assigned to a dedicated group of examiners under a dedicated senior supervisor. This group is supported by specialized teams, in charge

				of analysing specific financial issues. Activities of the specialized teams cover all Brazilian banks and not only the largest ones. There are 92 specialists in matters such as treasury operations, credit risk, accounting, operational risk and others. Their work is proportionally allocated to those banks being supervised. The number of examiners is considered adequate, in view of the support also provided by the specialized teams. Off-site supervision staff comprises 206 members grouped in several monitoring units that cover the entire Brazilian financial system and not only banks. Staff allocation is also deemed adequate. Web-links to relevant documents:

Short description of the content of the legislation/ regulation/guideline: Brazil was partially compliant with BCP1 and fully compliant with BCP23 in the last FSAP/ROSC assessments (the report was published in July, 2012). Specifically in relation to mandates, tools and powers for supervision, the Detailed Assessment Report on BCP reads: “The Brazilian legal framework provides adequate support for banking supervision. The BCB operates independently and has the authority to impose sanctions, preventive corrective action and to resolve weak banks, including their liquidation.” The BCB defines its supervision programs and allocates resources according to its attributions, as defined by Law	Web-links to relevant documents:

The BCB has a well-defined banking supervision process, supported by a legal framework that grants the BCB broad enforcement powers for corrective action and resolution of weak banks. The main instruments are: a) Law 4,595/1964 (the Banking Law; it establishes that the BCB has the autonomy to set its technical and administrative framework); b) Complementary Law 105/2001 (regarding access to banking information and confidentiality); c) Law 6,024/1974 (regarding banking resolution); d) Decree-law 2,321/1987 (regarding the special administration regime) and e) Law 9,447/1997 (regarding responsibility of controllers and independent auditors). One important development regarding the regulatory environment was the enactment of Resolution CMN 4,019/2011, which prescribes preventive prudential measures to be demanded by supervision in order to ensure the robustness, stability and regular functioning of the National Financial System. The aforementioned legal provisions grant supervisors adequate powers to carry out their duties. In addition, the BCB performs stress tests on a monthly basis for market risk, credit

VIII. Enhancing risk management
20 (31)	Enhancing guidance to strengthen banks' risk management practices, including on liquidity and foreign currency funding risks	Regulators should develop enhanced guidance to strengthen banks' risk management practices, in line with international best practices, and should encourage financial firms to re-examine their internal controls and implement strengthened policies for sound risk management. (Washington)	Jurisdictions should indicate the policy measures taken to enhance guidance to strengthen banks' risk management practices. See, for reference, the Joint Forum's Principles for the supervision of financial conglomerates (Sep 2012) and the following BCBS documents:	Implementation ongoing or completed If "Not applicable" or "Applicable but no action envisaged..." has been selected, please provide a brief justification:	Planned actions (if any): The BCB supervision areas (both on-site and off-site) are raising banking stress testing practices and regulation requirements, which may indicate the necessity of changes in current regulation. The BCB is undertaking impact studies of the LCR and plans to issue regulation on its calculation by the end of 2013. Considering the BCBS guidelines and banking industry practices, the BCB is reviewing its supervisory practices, under the current regulatory framework, in order to adopt any actions deemed necessary. New econometric models, an indirect contagion risk model and counterparty credit risk model are under development at the BCB. There are also plans to integrate tools like stress testing, contagion risk assessments and models of probability of default. The follow-up of the timeline for implementation of the framework for managing capital requirements, as established by Resolution CMN 3.988/2011 and Circular BCB 3.547/2011 is ongoing. Data from 65 financial institutions is being collected; Icaap processes are expected to be concluded

Circular BCB 3,547/2011 required that Icaap procedures must include, among other aspects, the conduction of stress tests and their impacts on capital. Such framework is to be implemented by supervised institutions during a timeline starting in Jan 2012 and ending in Jun 2013. Even before such prescription, stress tests across the national financial system have been periodically carried out by the BCB, considering both specific and macro shocks. Other regulations regarding the management of credit, market and operational risks require financial institutions to conduct stress tests. Resolution CMN 4,090/2013 established that financial institutions supervised by the BCB must implement an adequate framework for managing liquidity risk, in accordance with the complexity and volume of their operations. Guidelines were set for implementing liquidity controls. Apart from that, Brazil implemented in 2002 a highly automated system of payments (Brazilian System of Payments-SPB), based on real-time settlement. During daily management of cash, the settlement of operations is prevented in case of an insufficiency of funds in the reserves account of a financial institution at the BCB. The SPB allows the BCB to gather information on banks' assets and liabilities from sources like the BCB-operated systems for funds transfer (Reserves Transfer System–STR) or for settlement of repo operations (Special System for Settlement and Custody–Selic), as well as from private clearing houses, in order to monitor liquidity risk on a daily basis. Besides that, the on-site supervision of liquidity risk management takes place periodically or as a specific supervisory work as a result of an early warning of weakness provided by the off-site monitoring department. Resolution CMN 3,488/2007 sets a limit to the exposure in foreign currencies and gold. This limit is set at 30% of Regulatory Capital on a consolidated basis. Netting is permitted by currency and partially across strongly correlated currencies. 25 (40)	Enhanced market transparency in commodity markets	We need to ensure enhanced market transparency, both on cash and financial commodity markets, including OTC, and achieve appropriate regulation and supervision of participants in these markets. Market regulators and authorities should be granted effective intervention powers to address disorderly markets and prevent market abuses. In particular, market regulators should have, and use formal position management powers, including the power to set ex-ante position limits, particularly in the delivery month where appropriate, among other powers of intervention. We call on IOSCO to report on the implementation of its recommendations by the end of 2012. (Cannes)	Jurisdictions should indicate the policy measures taken to enhance market transparency in commodity markets. See, for reference, IOSCO’s report on Principles for the Regulation and Supervision of Commodity Derivatives Markets (Sep 2011). Jurisdictions, in responding to this recommendation, may also make use of the responses contained in the report published by the IOSCO’s Committee on Commodity Futures Markets based on a survey conducted amongst its members in April 2012 on regulation in commodity derivatives market.	Implementation ongoing or completed If “ Not applicable “ or “Applicable but no action envisaged ...” has been selected, please provide a brief justification: Issue is being addressed through : <input type="checkbox"/> Primary / Secondary legislation <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Regulation /Guidelines <input type="checkbox"/> Other actions (such as supervisory actions), please specify: Status of progress : Reform effective (completed) as of : 2007 Short description of the content of the legislation/ regulation/guideline: The regulatory framework ensures full compliance with IOSCO recommendations regarding enhanced market transparency in commodity markets. Since the 1990s all derivatives (both exchange-traded and over-the-counter -OTC) must be registered, and Law 10,303/2001 brought all derivatives contracts to CVM jurisdiction. Law 12,543/11 expressly states that non-registered contracts are illegal Rule CVM 461/2007 grants CVM powers to cancel trades that might be regarded as a breach of the law or as a violation of any rules in the organized market. CVM only approves commodity derivatives contracts whose price reporting process	Planned actions (if any): Expected commencement date: Web-links to relevant documents:
