					are as under: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Addressing maturity mismatches – <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Liquid funds can invest only in instruments of up to 91 day maturity from the earlier provision of 182 days. (SEBI circular dated 19/01/2009).</li> <li>• The closed ended schemes are allowed to invest in securities of initial or residual maturities not exceeding the maturity of the scheme for a better asset liability management. (SEBI circular dated 11/12/2008)</li> </ul> </li> <li>2. Liquidity transformation (limiting redemption pressure) – Close ended schemes are defined in Regulations as schemes in which the period of maturity is specified. Earlier regulation exempted close ended schemes from mandatory listing in case, inter-alia, the scheme provides for periodic re-purchase facility to all unit holders with restriction. The regulatory framework was amended to discontinue redemption before maturity and made mandatory listing of close ended schemes to provide investors with an exit option and gave fund managers certainty to manage funds till the closing date. (SEBI circular dated 11/12/2008)</li> </ol>

					3. Restricting leverage- The cumulative gross exposure through debt, money market instruments and derivative positions should not exceed 100% of the net assets of the scheme. 4. Allotment of units only when funds available with scheme for utilization - It was observed that mutual funds were deploying funds without receiving clear funds in the scheme account. In order to avoid systemic risk, the provisions regarding uniform cut-off timings for applicability of Net Asset Value (NAV) of mutual fund schemes/plans were modified. The application of purchase was to be recognized only when the funds were available for utilization before the cut-off time without availing any credit facility. (SEBI circular dated 26/11/2010) 5. Investment in Money Market Instruments - No mutual fund scheme shall invest more than thirty percent of its net assets in money market instruments of an issuer: Provided that such limit shall not be applicable for investments in Government securities, treasury bills and collateralized borrowing and lending obligations. (Notification dated 05/06/2009)

(# in brackets are from 2011 template)	G20/FSB Recommendations			Deadline	Progress to Date	Planned Next Steps
					6. Restricting Regulatory Arbitrage (Investment by banks in liquid/short term debt schemes of mutual funds) - It was observed that banks' investments in liquid schemes of mutual funds have grown manifold. The liquid schemes continue to rely heavily on institutional investors such as commercial banks whose redemption requirements are likely to be large and simultaneous; on the other hand, they are large lenders in the over-night markets such as collateralised borrowing and lending obligation (CBLO) and market repo, where banks are large borrowers. Thus, banks could potentially face a large liquidity risk. It was, therefore, felt prudent to place certain limits on banks' investments in liquid/short term debt schemes of mutual funds. Accordingly, the Reserve Bank of India (the Central Bank) decided that the total investment by banks in liquid/short term debt schemes (by whatever name called) of mutual funds with weighted average maturity of portfolio of not more than 1 year, will be subject to a prudential cap of 10 per cent of their net worth as on March 31 of the previous year. (RBI notification dated 05/07/2011)

					Intermediaries (SIFIs), termed financial conglomerates in India, are not very significant. Within the country, there already exists a monitoring and oversight framework of financial conglomerates where three major regulators, viz. the RBI, SEBI and IRDA, are involved. The ‘principal’ or ‘lead regulator’ holds periodic meetings with the concerned sectoral regulators and the group entities. The oversight framework envisages monitoring by the ‘principal’ regulator, off-site monitoring and sharing of supervisory information with other regulators. This monitoring framework endeavours to identify contagion like situations at the incipient stage, which could snowball into a systemic concern unless addressed promptly. The framework also aims at addressing market disruption issues by undertaking assessments of sources of liquidity for the group. In December 2010, Government has established a Financial Stability Development Council (FSDC) with a view to institutionalize and strengthen the mechanisms for maintaining financial stability, financial sector development and inter-regulatory coordination, and without prejudice to the existing mandates and autonomy of the regulators. The FSDC is

			of regulated banks, shadow banks and private pools of capital to limit the build up of systemic risk.		Reserve Bank of India has been practicing macro-prudential regulation with a view to ensuring that systemic risks are contained. As regards the time dimension of systemic risk i.e. pro-cyclicality, RBI has been following the sectoral approach. The risk weights and standard provisioning requirements and prescription of LTV ratios are changed whenever it is found that bank credit to a specific sector is going up excessively. As regards the countercyclical capital buffer prescribed in Basel III, it is felt that aggregate credit to GDP ratio may not be applicable to Indian conditions. This is due to the structural transformation being experienced by the economy. A committee is working on the suitable calibration for the operationalisation of countercyclical capital framework. For easy understanding of the rating symbols and their meanings by the investors and to achieve high standards of integrity and fairness in ratings, SEBI standardized the rating symbols and definitions in consultation with Credit Rating Agencies.

					f. The Credit Rating Agencies (CRAs) play an important role in the securities markets as investors take their decisions for investing in debt instruments issued by the companies based on ratings. Credit Rating Agencies registered with SEBI also carry out rating of other securities/ instruments and loans/facilities provided by banks which are not regulated by SEBI. Such ratings are being used by the other regulators or their regulated entities for the specified purposes. It was felt desirable that in addition to the review/accreditation process put in place by the other regulators, such ratings should also be governed by the same stringent norms as applicable for rating of securities issued by way of public/rights issue. In consultation with Credit Rating Agencies as well as other regulators, it has been mandated that Credit Rating Agencies shall follow the applicable requirements pertaining to rating process and methodology and its records/transparency and disclosures, avoidance of conflict of interest, code of conduct, as specified in the SEBI Regulations and circulars issued by SEBI from time to time. It had not been possible for IASB to adhere to the timeline of June 2011 for the finalisation of the Exposure Draft on insurance contracts. IASB is further expected to come out with a limited revised exposure draft on insurance contracts. Even after its eventual finalization, IASB provides a time period of 18 months for its implementation. This means that the standard on insurance contract may be ready for implementation by September, 2013. IRDA has sought deferment of compliance for insurance sector with IFRS standards, till IASB comes out with the revised standards on insurance contracts and valuation of financial assets. Web-links to relevant documents:  http://www.mca.gov.in/Ministry/accounting_standards.html
